

IFS Copperleaf Foresight

Next generation investment planning, powered by AI

| IFS Copperleaf

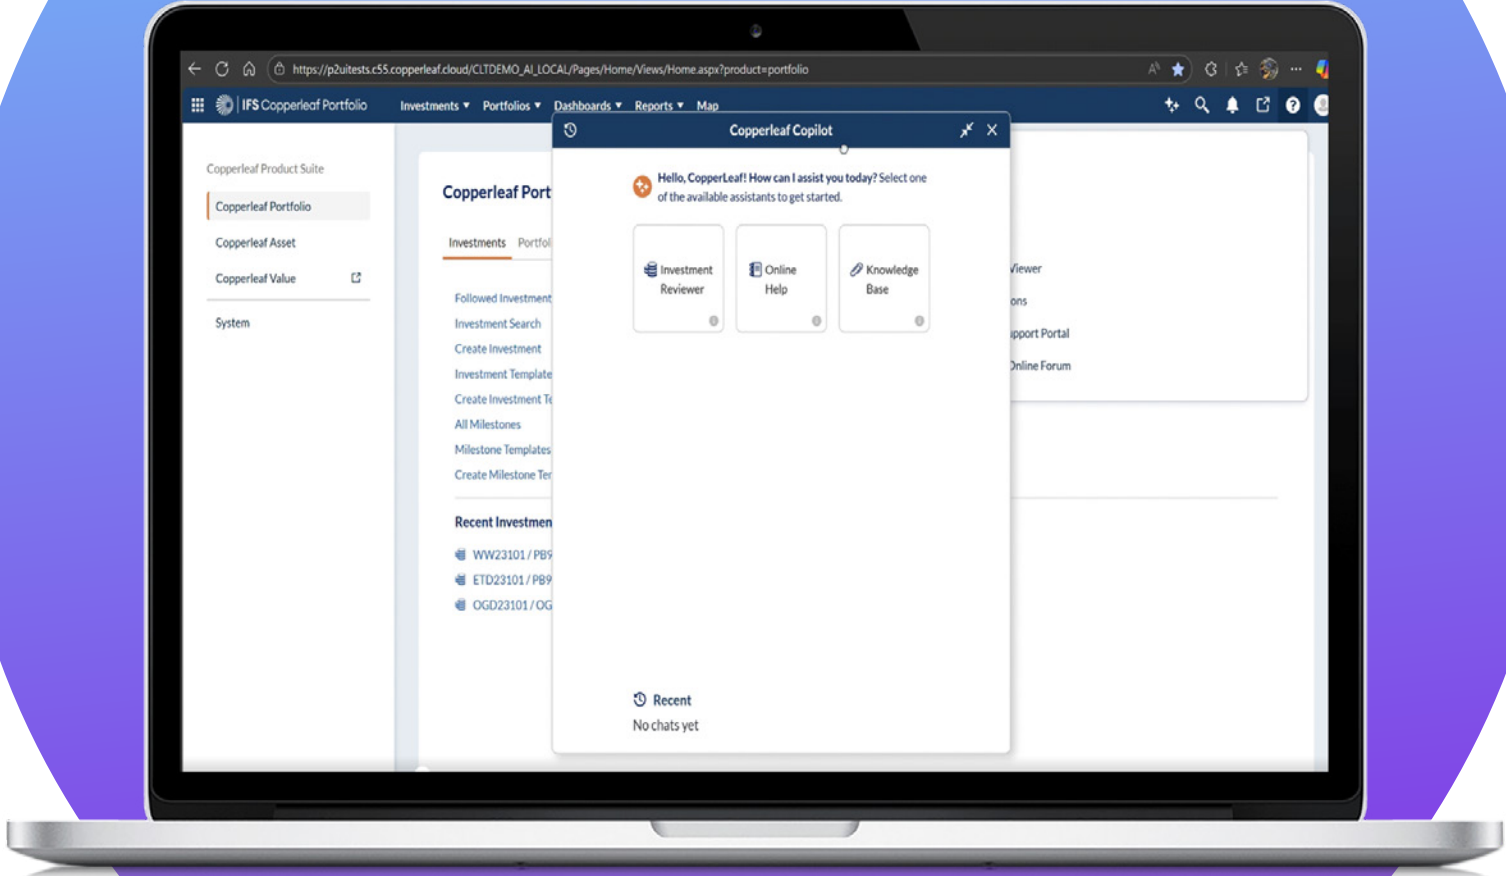

What does the investment planning process of tomorrow look like? Today, many organizations struggle with disconnected systems, manual data reconciliation, and inconsistent processes that slow decisions and hinder confidence.

Foresight is the AI core of the IFS Copperleaf solution. It helps teams harness AI to connect information, accelerate analysis, and ensure investment decisions align with strategy and performance goals. Harnessing AI’s potential in investment planning requires new tools and new ways of working—tools that improve the speed and quality of analysis, portfolio planning, and stakeholder engagement. Foresight brings these capabilities together to enhance every stage of the planning process.

The future of AI in IFS Copperleaf

For many organizations, IFS Copperleaf is the foundation of their investment planning process—enabling teams to collaborate effectively, model scenarios in real time, and gain actionable insights. Foresight bundle builds on this foundation, improving investment case quality, accelerating approvals, and increasing planning efficiency.

“AI in the IFS Copperleaf suite turns uncertainty into strategic clarity, helping leaders make faster, more confident capital decisions that deliver measurable value.”

AI that supports your planning process

Foresight delivers measurable improvements in investment planning by producing higher-quality business cases, reducing rework, and improving productivity.

Component	Function
Foresight Analyze	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Reviews investments against organization-specific criteria and recommends improvements for higher first-time quality and faster reviews.</li></ul>
Foresight Augment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Provides real-time, in-app guidance based on an organization’s unique use cases to drive consistency and reduce support needs.</li></ul>
Foresight BI	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Uses natural language to explore data and create dashboards and visualizations directly within IFS Copperleaf.</li></ul>

Foresight embeds within the IFS Copperleaf ecosystem, improving investment case quality and review speed while maintaining the highest standards of security and compliance. It processes data securely and does not retain information from user interactions.

Faster, easier, and more consistent planning

Foresight improves productivity and plan quality by automating routine checks and guiding users through best-practice workflows.

Teams can link strategy to investment decisions more effectively, streamline reviews, and reduce approval times—all without requiring complex data or lengthy setup.

Existing IFS Copperleaf users can easily add Foresight to extend their platform with AI-powered capabilities.

Built to manage change and complexity

Across industries, AI is reshaping how organizations plan and prioritize investments, turning data into insight and insight into action. By combining IFS Copperleaf's proven optimization capabilities with Foresight's intelligent analysis and assistance, planning teams can work more efficiently, make more consistent decisions, and deliver stronger outcomes from their capital programs.
